Are you looking for facts and figures to establish the need for your afterschool program?
Need evidence to support your grant applications or advocacy efforts?

Then check out the Afterschool Alliance Fact Sheets.

The Afterschool Alliance is a non-profit located in Washington D.C. focused on increasing investment in quality afterschool programs. Their website has loads of useful tools and resources including this Fact Sheet section which includes short documents with research findings from the last 15 years. You can access information about the importance of afterschool overall or search by topic such as STEM, Arts, and Health and Wellness.

In addition to fact sheets, the website offers issue briefs and full-length reports for a more comprehensive understanding of issues relevant to out-of-school time.
